"Home of the AuSable River"

50¢

MICHIGAN HISTORICAL MUSEUM DISPLAY--This antique AuSable Riverboat, built by Arthur E. Wakeley Sr. in 1933-34, specifically for use in the fast waters below Stephan Bridge, now highlights a gallery of the Michigan Historical Museum's new 20th Century exhibition. The historical boat was donated to the museum by Henry Reniger of Grayling.

AuSable Riverboat added to Michigan Historical Museum

Where can you see a 1920s farmyard and beauticians salon, the nose of a B-24 Liberator bomber, a Finnish sauna, the 1957 Detroit Auto Show and an original AuSable Riverboat in one day? At the Michigan Historical Museum in Lansing, which officially opened its 20th century galleries during a Saturday, May 6 celebration.

The AuSable Riverboat, donated to the museum by Grayling resident Henry Reniger, is the center piece of a nature and outdoor gallery that features a log cabin, early snowmobile and huge life-like white pine trees. There is even a real flowing stream through the gallery.

The riverboat, built by Arthur E. Wakeley Sr. in the winter of 1933-34 for Henry Reniger Sr., was chosen as a center piece to the gallery as a symbol of Michigan's rich outdoor recreational resources.

At 24-feet long, the boat is longer than most AuSable riverboats. According to Reniger, its length and weight was designed especially for the fast waters of the AuSable below Stephan's Bridge.

It is constructed of tidewater heart cypress boards shipped from Louisiana.

Thousands of museum spectators joined Henry Reniger Jr. at the exhibit's grand opening. Reniger and other exhibit donors were on hand for the day to talk about their possessions.

The boat was actually donated to the museum in 1986, but hasn't found a proper resting place until the completion of the 20th century exhibition.

"My father would be proud to know that his beloved boat now has a resting place where future generations can view life as it was back in the 1930s," Reniger said.

Crackdown on drugs continues

Grayling man Peter Wade Modica, 47, was arrested for maintaining a drug house on Tuesday, May 2, by detectives from STING and the Crawford County Sheriff Department.

The arrest resulted from an investigation that led to the arrest of two other Grayling men on April 12, according to a news release from the Crawford County Sheriff Department. This investigation has led to the arrest of four Grayling men charged with 13 different counts of distribution of Marijuana and LSD.

Modica was arraigned on May 9 in the 83rd District Court. The charge of maintaining a drug house carries a maximum penalty of two years and/or $25,000 fine.

Pucker up sweet lips!

Kissing a pig didn't turn anyone into a prince charming, but it did motivate a class of second graders to read over 20,000 pages.

Who kissed the pig? Mrs. Mick, the Grayling Elementary School principal after the students successfully read 20,071 in the month of March.

"It was a small thing to do for such a big accomplishment," said Mrs. Mick about kissing a pig. "I was really proud of the second grade class that accomplished this."

Mrs. Canfield's second grade class made a deal with Mrs. Mick for March Reading month. The agreement was that if the students read 20,000 pages during the month of March, she would kiss a live pig. Mrs. Mick agreed to the deal.

The whole school became involved and supported Mrs. Canfield's class, said Mrs. Mick. Mrs. Canfield's class was the only class whose pages counted toward the goal of 20,000.

Seven students finished the race with well over 1,000 pages each. They were Brian Gomez, Ellie Curriston, Hannah Hall, Jeremiah Handrich, Jodi Riddle, Josh Hinkle and Mandy Lightle.

On Monday, April 24, Mrs. Mick kissed a pot belly pig right on the snout at a school assembly. The pig was brought in courtesy of school board member, Lewis Madill who owns several pigs. Madill had the choice of bringing in a 500 pound pig or the cute, little one. Mrs. Mick was glad he chose the cute, little one.

So, what's it like to kiss a pig?

"For future reference," said Mrs. Mick, "it was cold and wet like a dog's nose. It wasn't slimy."

The pig had no comment about how Mrs. Mick kissed.

Commissioners say landfill enforcement needed before 'yes' vote

By Terry Wright
News Editor

Three Crawford County Commissioners who voted against the recent landfill amendment say they are not worried about the possibility of legal action against the county.

The amendment, similar to an amendment which was accepted by the county just over a year ago, was submitted by City Environmental Services Inc. of Waters (CESW), and would have allowed more counties in which CESW could compete for waste to be brought to its Maple Forest based landfill.

Officials from CESW have said they need more revenue generating waste to make the landfill a profitable undertaking, but without the amendment, will return the landfill to the county and recover the purchase price of $3.8 million plus compensation for improvements and environmental clean up.

"We're in the process of notifying the county of our intentions," said Susan Johnson, Environmental Counsel for City Management, an affiliate of CESW. "I hope to get something out to them early next week."

"We said in the past, if the county

3-3 tie vote at the commissioner's Tuesday, May 2, meeting. Voting "no" were commissioners Bruce Bretzke, Kathleen Black and Robert Smock Jr. Voting in favor of the amendment were commissioners

Long, Hartman and McLachlan.

Long and McLachlan have long held that the county has had a contractual obligation, stemming from the original sale of the landfill to CESW, to pass the amendment. The vote came after evidence was presented by citizen Carl Partello, showing that CESW had been in random violation of accepting waste for several years from Chippewa County for disposal in Maple Forest, contrary to the Crawford County Solid Waste Plan.

Partello also alleged that CESW has been accepting trash from Grand Traverse County, who is also not included in the plan. Officials at CESW have not denied the existence of violations and have stated their belief that flow control regulations are not legal. Department of Natural Resources Environmental Engineer, John Ozoga, told the commissioners the Chippewa County violations are still occurring and that if actions weren't taken by CESW to stop the violations, or if Crawford County didn't take action to stop the violations, CESW could be in danger of losing its landfill operating license when the current license expires July 28, 1996.

That discussion led to the apparent conclusion by some commissioners that a law enforcement mechanism to monitor what goes into the landfill should be in place, and that impact fees from CESW should pay for it.

Explaining his vote, commissioner Bretzke said, "I don't understand how anybody could sit through that meeting and willingly aid and abet any operation, based on those violations, with a "yes" vote.

"My concern is for my children and grandchildren. I need to make sure that landfill doesn't become the most unregulated dumping ground in the world."

"It would take a substantial fee based on yards of waste going into the landfill, paid to Crawford County, to insure there could be an enforcement mechanism in place," Bretzke added.

When asked about the county's obligation, outlined in the purchase agreement and reaffirmed by an opinion of the law firm of Warner, Norcross and Judd, to promote the interests of CESW, Bretzke said, "I don't think the county has an obligation

Waste contract surfaces between CESW and Grand Traverse County

A copy of a contract, obtained by the Avalanche, between City Environmental Services Inc. of Waters (CESW), and the Grand Traverse County Board of Public Works (BPW), administrator of that county's solid waste management plan, states an agreement for CESW to haul waste from Grand Traverse County to the CESW landfill in Maple Forest Township.

In that contract, CESW agreed to pay $1.50 per cubic yard to the BPW.

A graph attached to the report shows that in 1993, CESW hauled 6,397 gate yards of trash and in 1994 another 4,254 gate yards of trash, from Grand Traverse County to the Maple Forest landfill.

The agreement was signed on March 6, 1993, effective April 1, 1993 until Dec. 31, 2002.

Grand Traverse County is not included in Crawford County's solid waste management plan.

City council unhappy with county board

By Linda Sherwood
Staff Writer

Crawford County Commissioners are going to be taken "behind the woodshed" by the City of Grayling council members.

Ralph Stevens, mayor pro-tem, said that the county commissioners had a viable plan dealing with the landfill that the city council would have approved but they weren't given the chance to approve it.

A landfill amendment that was developed by City Environmental Services of Waters (CESW) and several townships and municipalities within Crawford County was turned down by a 3-3 vote by the Crawford County Board of Commissioners on Tuesday, May 2.

Stevens proposed that Jerry Morford, city manager, write a letter to "take them (the county commissioners) behind the woodshed" for not representing their constituents when they voted on the landfill amendment.

"We want our representative to do everything possible to see the city is held harmless," said Stevens.

A motion was made and approved by all present with none opposing the writing of the letter. Morford said the letter would be done Monday for the city council members to read and sign.

Mayor Robert Golnick said the county commissioners had a committee formed to address the landfill issues.

"The committee worked their buns off and half the (county) board ignored it," said Golnick.

The consensus of the City of Grayling council members was to let the county commissioners know that the council wants the matter resolved and to make sure the city was held harmless from any legal action.

Commissioners ask for landfill enforcement

to deal with any entity who is in direct and continual violation of the law of the land."

Commissioner Smock, who was instrumental in attaining the outside legal opinion, said, "Warner, Norcross and Judd's opinion was that the county does have a contractual obligation to cooperate with CESW."

"However, the purchase agreement does not specify how many other counties must be added, nor does it address what restrictions or conditions the county may impose on waste imported from outside Crawford County. Warner, Norcross and Judd stated it is their opinion that in amending the plan, reasonable terms and conditions may be imposed by the county."

Smock said his positive vote depends on a per-gate-yard fee that could be used to address not only law enforcement, but county-wide recycling, environmental education, consistent solid waste planning, a study of resource recovery, hazardous waste disposal and independent monitoring of contaminated ground water on the landfill site.

"Now is the most opportune time to reach a favorable agreement for Crawford County," Smock said. "A mutually acceptable impact fee, per-gate-yard, assures not only approval of the proposed solid waste amendment, but ties mutual interests to both current and future volume limits in a positive manner, while ensuring safe environmental practices."

Commissioner Black agreed saying, "Warner, Norcross and Judd said there should be some kind of surcharge. I think it should be a fee, spread across all the counties, and earmarked specifically for law enforcement."

"We wouldn't necessarily need a bag-kicker at the gate all the time, it could be augmented with a surveillance camera system."

"There's nothing intrinsically wrong with this agreement except it doesn't address enforcement," she said. "A great many people in this county have told me the one complaint against this amendment is that there is no mechanism for protection. I don't think it's unfair to ask for a fee."

COMMISSIONERS AT WORK--Crawford County Commissioners Kathy Black and Robert McLachlan share a moment of discussion prior to the landfill vote.

Black said the time has never been better for Crawford County and CESW to negotiate a mutually beneficial agreement. "I don't think we're that far apart," Black said. "It's been a game of garbage truck chicken. We don't want to be unreasonable, but this agreement is not what the citizens should expect from the board of commissioners."

2 suspects still at large for Grayling Twp. break-in

A female Grayling Township resident was tied with a telephone cord in the middle of the night Wednesday, May 3, when two white males in their 20s or 30s broke into her home off of Stephan Bridge Rd.

According to the Crawford County Sheriff Department, the victim was in bed sleeping when the break-in occurred. The two suspects forced open the front door of the home and entered. The suspects strong armed the victim out of bed and then bound her with a telephone cord.

The suspects then ransacked the home before fleeing in a very loud vehicle, possibly a truck. A couple of items are missing from the home, said Sheriff David Lovely.

The Crawford County Sheriff Department is currently looking for two white male suspects in the case. The first suspect is described by the victim as being 5'7", slender build. The second suspect is described as being 5'10", medium build and talked with an accent and was referred to as "Tony," by the other suspect.

Anyone with information regarding the case should contact the Crawford County Sheriff Department at (517)348-4616.

Lowe pushes tax break for senior care providers

Individuals providing primary care for family members 60 years and older would receive an additional tax exemption of $1,500 under legislation introduced in the Michigan House, said state Rep. Allen Lowe, R-Grayling, who co-sponsored the plan.

The bill allows one extra exemption on the Michigan tax form if the primary care is preventing the relative from being institutionalized. Assistance with health, safety, nutrition, hygiene, homemaking or other daily activities would qualify taxpayers for the exemption.

"This approach would be cost-effective," said Lowe. "Providing financial incentives will help families care for their own and avoid more expensive alternatives. Everyone would benefit from such a system."

Lowe, chair of the House Senior Citizens and Veterans Affairs Committee, said the public and private sectors must develop creative strategies to handle the enormous demand of a growing senior population.

"More people are living longer and suffering more chronic conditions," Lowe said. "Researchers predict 12 million frail elderly nationwide in less than 40 years. Within 30 years, our state's senior population will more than double. Addressing the needs of these individuals will be an enormous challenge. Offering an additional tax exemption is just one way to help."

The bill now goes to the House Committee on Tax Policy for further consideration.

Highway logo sign bills win Senate approval

Senator George McManus, R- Traverse City, has announced that highway signs would serve as a guide to roadside establishments for Michigan drivers under two bills approved in the Senate recently.

The bills would allow the Michigan Department of Transportation

(MDOT) to conduct a pilot program to study the effects of logo signs on Michigan highways. Logo signs, which identify by logo which eateries, gas stations and hotels are available at an exit, would be tested at 30 interchanges statewide for three years. The locations would be reported to the House and Senate Standing Committees on Transportation and a written report on the project would include an economic impact study of logo signs on the outdoor advertising industry. Any revenue received by MDOT would be deposited in the State Trunk Line Fund.

"I'm pleased the Senate has approved this important legislation," McManus said. "Forty-two states currently have some kind of logo-sign program. These signs provide an important service to Michigan drivers and will benefit the state's tourism industry as a whole."

The bills now move to the House to await action.

Doors close on gypsy moth control May 15

Even though you don't see them, gypsy moth egg masses are difficult to spot, but they are still present in Crawford County and property owners are cautioned not to be deceived by the "out-of-sight -- out-of-mind" syndrome. True, populations are not as high as they have been in the past, and the chances that there will be another major infestation are slim, but people who live in predominantly oak and hardwood areas should realize that the gypsy moth is here to stay and at times aggressive control measures will have to be considered.

Residents who would like to consider some form of control for this season have until May 15 to make their desire known. Requests for information, or to be considered in this year's gypsy moth aerial-spray program, persons should contact Crawford County Gypsy Moth Program Coordinator Howard Taylor at 348-5187.

As a result of the low population of gypsy moth last summer, very few people responded last fall at the scoping meeting, or at the phone-in request for spray consideration. As a result of that low interest last fall, Crawford County does not qualify for cost sharing with the Michigan Department of Agriculture this spring. However, a gypsy moth control program is being conducted in Crawford County this spring, and residents interested in participating in the program need to contact the coordinator no later than May 15.

Last call for senior singers and dancers

If you have been giving some consideration to joining the most exciting group of senior citizens in northern Michigan, but have been putting it off, don't delay any longer. Senior citizens of the Grayling area are about to go into the final phase of rehearsals for their third annual production of the "Milltown Follies." This 2-hour show, filled to the brim with singing, dancing, and plenty of laughs, is scheduled for performance on June 9 and 10. The performances will take place in the Grayling High School Auditorium and tickets are presently on sale. In Grayling, tickets can be purchased at the Grayling State Bank and Mac's Drug Store. Phone orders for tickets should be directed to (517) 348-2268.

The "Milltown Follies" is especially interested in anyone who is a ballroom dancer. This year there are two sequences in the show that call for ballroom dancing, but the production has been unable to find enough people who can do that. If you are a ballroom dancer and would be willing to dance in the show, call show director Howard Taylor at 800-624-0221. In addition to the ballroom dancers, the "Follies" still has plenty of room for people who just like to sing. You don't have to be able to read music, just enjoy music and enjoy a good time. Rehearsals are held at the Grayling Senior Center every Thursday at 2 p.m. Feel free to stop by and see what it's all about. They'll be looking for you.

City advises of water tower inspection

Commencing on Monday, May 15, the city engineers will be inspecting the city water tower.

This will require the tower to be taken out of service for approximately five days beginning Sunday, May 14. During this period there will be four pressure-relief valves installed on fire hydrants which will be releasing water on a continuous basis in order to maintain adequate water service and pressure for city residents and businesses. When the tank has been refilled these hydrants will be closed and the system will return to normal operations.

Call the city office at 348-2131 if you notice someone, other than city personnel, tampering with these pressure valves, as it is important that they operate as intended in order to insure an adequate water supply during this time.

Should you observe a problem with this system during evenings or weekends, contact the Crawford County Central Dispatch at 348-6341, who will alert proper city authorities.

Avalanche seeks news from surrounding areas

The Crawford County Avalanche does not limit its area of coverage to just the Grayling area.

Striving to better serve the rural residents of Frederic and Lovells, and the surrounding areas of Roscommon, Higgins Lake, Mio, Luzerne Waters and Bear Lake, the Avalanche is asking that persons and organizations in those areas submit notices and news briefs for timely publication.

In the near future, the Avalanche will dedicate an area in its news pages strictly to news from rural areas, in much the same way that "community news briefs" are currently found each week on page 3A.

Community news items submitted to the Avalanche must be received in our office by Monday noon, to appear in our Wednesday issue. Items can be dropped off at the Avalanche office, located at 102 Michigan Avenue, Grayling, or faxed to the office at (517) 348-6806. ISSUES AND OPINIONS

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Does evidence mean nothing to commissioner?

To the Editor,
Just when I thought I'd seen it all from the chairman of the board of commissioners, he and some of his sidekicks shocked me again.

I am referring to the Crawford County Board of Commissioner's meeting on May 2, where Chairman Long made a disgusting display of trying to justify heavily-documented evidence of past and continuing violations of Michigan law by City Environmental Services.

Nineteen pages of documentation were presented to the board, as requested by Chairman Long, verifying the illegal hauling of trash from the Upper Peninsula into the landfill in Crawford County. Two pieces of documentation were DNR cease and desist orders from both 1993 and 1994, ordering CESW to stop the illegal hauling, but John Ozoga of the DNR, told the board at that same meeting that the violations are still continuing.

It is obvious that evidence means little or nothing to commissioners Long, McLachlan and Hartman who all voted to pass the amendment to let CESW haul even more trash into Crawford County.

What I saw as Chairman Long's response to citizens who expressed concern that Crawford County needs an enforcement mechanism as outlined in Public Act 641, before the amendment should be passed, was to personally attack their motives. Even worse, he repeatedly tried to justify documented criminal activities on the part of CESW.

What in the world was he doing? With no one but CESW watching themselves, what protections are afforded to Crawford County's environment and citizens. I'm thankful Mr. Ozoga was at the meeting to answer questions in a forthright and informative manner. He and his colleagues at the Grayling DNR Field Office do as well as they can under the present political onslaught from Lansing.

By law, Crawford County is not dependent on the DNR or the Attorney General's Office to enforce or prosecute violations of Michigan laws concerning its own solid waste management plan.

Prosecutor Huss has the information on these violations and I feel he has a duty to protect all the citizens from those who violate the law, including CESW.

To the editor:
I would appreciate this opportunity to apologize to the customer that came through Hardee's drive thru on Saturday, May 6. My rudeness to him was unforgivable. I'm sure if he had known the bombshell that had just been dropped on me, he would understand where all that anger came from. But I had no right taking it out on him. So I send my heartfelt apology to him.

A piece of good news is needed for today. I have that information for you. I have learned that a local special volunteer has been recognized by the Michigan Special Olympics as the volunteer of the year for Area 4. This very special lady is Carolyn Whaley. I think she deserves three cheers for all the love and time she gives to these athletes. Please join me with saying thank-you and well done, Carolyn.

ALMANACK By Richard Milliman

I see by the papers...

MR. WILLS HAS a point.

There are dedicated and talented people working in local and state government, who undoubtedly could handle the food stamp program — and other federal turnovers — better than the job is now being done.

But there are also local boobs and underheads who could not.

Just so, there are fine, capable federal employees, too, who are fully as dedicated as local officials.

State and federal bureaucrats often are much alike. There are good ones and there are bad ones.

One problem comes when a state bureaucratic layer is in place on top of a federal bureaucratic layer. Duplication is expensive, and often unnecessary.

But can food stamps, and other programs, be handled better by your friendly public servant down at the courthouse... or by your friendly but faceless Washingtonian?

In most cases, I'd opt for the courthouse.

I SEE BY THE PAPERS some intriguing comments on their jobs by a couple of respected public officials.

One was U.S. Rep. Henry Hyde of Illinois, taking part in a House debate on term limits (he's opposed). Said Mr. Hyde:

"...It's 11:30 at night, and it's a January cold night, and the snow is swirling around outside the window, and I'm in a banquet hall. I'm at my one millionth banquet. We're honoring the mayor of one of my local towns and they haven't even introduced the commissioner of streets yet. And I'm exhausted...."

Awww..... That's too bad, Rep. Hyde.

But then again, the job must not be too painful. Rep. Hyde's been running for it every two years since 1974.

Then there's U.S. Supreme Court Justice Antonin Scalia, who's had his job since 1986. Addressing law students at the University of Baltimore, Mr. Scalia mused that his job was not what it might seem.

"Have you ever been on a committee of nine people? Did you have a feeling of power? I don't wake up in the morning and say, 'I'm a powerful guy.' I don't feel powerful because I end up doing things that I don't want to do."

Awww..... That's too bad, Justice

Scalia.

But then again, there are a lot of us out here in the real world who don't feel powerful.

And there are plenty of us out here who every day "end up doing things that [we] don't want to do" either.

Let's not waste too much sympathy on either of these complainants.

NUTS AND JOLTS—Some column closing Nuts and Jolts from Rod Shewell:

Summer is the time of year they close all the roads and open all the detours.

About every day there's a new cereal on the market that's "bran" new.

If the cure came as quickly as the medical bills, we'd be the healthiest country on earth.

Babies all have soft spots in their heads... and some never get rid of them.

Gross income is what Hollywood gets for its filthy films.

JIM FITZGERALD

Vacations are made for breaking the law

On I-75, as the blinking police car in my rear-view mirror signaled for me to pull over, my wife said: "I've warned you a hundred times that Tennessee police are strict about speeding."

"We are in Kentucky," I said.

"Them too," she said.

What this nation needs is clearly stated, uniformly enforced speed limits on interstate freeways. We could also use fewer spouses who believe there are no limits, geographical or otherwise, on the instant conversion of hindsight into foresight.

Everyone knows the posted 55 and 65 m.p.h. limits are a joke. But how big a joke? For many years, when the road ahead is clear enough, I've set the cruise control on 65 for 55, and 80 for 65. This way I can pretty much keep up with traffic, except for tractor-trailers thundering downhill, which are why rest stops were invented.

For many thousands of miles, in Kentucky and everywhere else, this policy brought me not one speeding ticket. Until last month, when suddenly this Kentucky state cop charges me with going 15 miles over the 65 limit. Was he going through a change of life, an unearthly spiritual conversion, or what?

Law-abiding companion rubs it in

The fine was $89. But what hurt more was the opportunity given my darling wife to sympathize with my blotched driving record — car insurance going up? — by saying if I'd only listened to her continual obnoxious-law warnings, I wouldn't have been eligible to be picked by that cop as that minute's one violator in a thousand who deserved punishment.

All of which is mundane griping about a common problem, hardly worth valuable newspaper space, except for what happened a few days later. What happened proved that it all depends, and wives can be as criminal as husbands.

We were in Florida, driving north from Naples to Ft. Myers Beach on a narrow 2-lane coastal road, the only access to our destination, where we were to pick up two women and take them out to dinner. We got caught in a never-explained traffic jam that repeatedly slowed to complete long stops. It was soon apparent that we'd be at least an hour late for our date.

Except my wife couldn't stand the thought of her good friends waiting so long at a curb. Noting that the road intermittently expanded to include a long middle lane for turning only, she commanded me to use it, swiftly, although I had no intention of turning, and then force snarling, law-abiding motorists to let me back in the regular lane or I would dent their fenders.

Of course, there are exceptions

When I pointed out that we were breaking the law, my wife said it was OK because this was an emergency. As we neared our goal, only a few minutes late, she even ordered me to briefly drive the wrong way on a 1-way street. From the look in her eyes, I suspected she was becoming a serial traffic-law violator.

I followed my wife's criminal demands — after she put them in writing on the back of a road map — only in the hope of being caught by the law. I yearned to hear her tell a police officer about her two abandoned deaths, prostrate on a curb, starving to death within sight of 15 restaurants.

But you can never find a cop when you really need one.

My only possible recourse was provided later, by a posted restriction violated even more often than freeway speed limits. I mean those pool signs that order, "Shower Before Swimming."

There was such a sign where we frequently swam for a month. While my wife dog-paddled, I told everyone I could find that she hadn't showered in several days. But no one cared.

This is truly a lawless society. Got a message for Fitz? Phone 1-313-222-8755 anytime.

DID YOU HEAR THAT, SON??

DOODLES FROM THE TALL TIMBER

By Wendell L. Hoover, Park Interpreter

I recently completed a project for an addition to one of the exhibits in the new visitor center, which was a labor of love, because it provided an opportunity to use wood-carving skills learned over the years to create a life-sized passenger pigeon. Since these larger-than-a-dove-sized birds have been extinct since the turn of the century, it was necessary to consult a variety of sources to determine the proper size and shape as well as the proper color.

The blue-pattern pattern had been drawn from a mounted passenger pigeon in a northern Wisconsin museum and it provided the feather positions and detail to make the carving come to life.

Of equal importance were high-quality eyes and highly-detailed feet and legs. It took some searching to find a source for museum-quality eyes six millimeters in diameter and the cast-pewter feet and legs came from a source here in Michigan. The favored wood for such a carving is basswood because it is soft, takes detail well and does not split easily. A 5-inch by 5-inch by 15-inch block of Maple Forest Township basswood completed the material list.

Much of the carving was done in the visitor center, where a number of visitors were able to view the process of removing the extra wood to reveal the bird hidden within the basswood blank, and little by little, the passenger pigeon appeared as each tool did as it was directed. Feather detail was carved, then enhanced, with hundreds of wood-burned marks to create feathers. When all the carving and feather detail was complete, thin watery layers of color were applied with a variety of brushes, one layer after another, to bring the carving to life.

Rev. Paterson honored by NEMCSA Head Start staff

The NEMCSA Head Start staff honored Rev. Paterson of Michelson Memorial United Methodist Church with a plaque of appreciation for the years of dedicated service to head start at the Grayling Head Start Open House and celebration of the Month of the Young Child on Friday, April 28.

The Grayling Head Start program had been housed at the church for over a decade. The program moved out of the church and into its newly remodeled building on Business Loop 1-75 in January.

The Grayling program currently services 66 children and families in either a home-based or center-based program. NEMCSA Head Start covers 21 counties and services over 2,300 children. Head Start is a comprehensive, federally-funded, educational preschool program for three to five year olds. Health, social skills, nutrition, art, music, motor skills and language are part of the curriculum.

Parent education and parent involvement are the cornerstone of the Head Start program. For more information and enrollment, call 348-4448 or 348-7639.

VFW 'Buddy Poppy' campaign set for May 11-13

VFW Carl W. Borchers Post 3736 and Auxiliary, will be selling "Buddy Poppies" on May 11-13, in Grayling at Glen's, Kmart, post office, court house and many other locations.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States was the first veteran organization to promote a nationally-organized campaign for the annual distribution of poppies assembled by disabled and needy veterans. The VFW conducted a poppy sale prior to Memorial Day, 1922, using only poppies that were made in France. In the 1923 poppy sale, due to the difficulty and delay in getting poppies from France, the VFW made use of a surplus of French poppies that were on hand and the balance were artificial flowers.

It was during the 1923 campaign that the VFW evolved the idea which resulted in the "VFW Buddy Poppy" — fashioned by disabled and needy veterans who were paid for their work as a practical means of providing assistance for these comrades. In February, 1924, the VFW registered the name "Buddy Poppy" with the United States Patent Office and a certificate was issued on May 20, 1924, granting the VFW all trademark rights in the name of "Buddy" under the classification of artificial flowers. The VFW has made that trademark a guarantee that all poppies bearing that name and the VFW label are genuine products of the work of disabled and needy veterans.

Today, VFW Buddy Poppies are assembled by disabled, needy and aging veterans in VA hospitals and domiciliaries across the country. The majority of proceeds raised through the sale of Buddy Poppies are used exclusively for aid to veterans and their dependents. Buddy Poppy proceeds represent no profit to any VFW unit. Proceeds are placed in the Relief Fund and used to support Veterans' Rehabilitation Services, the VFW National Home at Eaton Rapids, and assistance to needy veterans and their families.

Hospice with Loving Care honors volunteers

Hospice with Loving Care recently held its Annual Volunteer Appreciation Banquet. Hospice volunteers were honored with Certificates of Appreciation and Certificates of Special Recognition for services performed above and beyond the call of duty throughout 1994.

Michele Walsh, Volunteer of the Year for 1993, presented the Volunteer of the Year for 1994 to Nancy Divetta. Divetta was nominated and voted the most deserving volunteer by her peers for Roscommon and Crawford counties. She has been a volunteer since 1989, serving as a bereavement support-group facilitator.

"Nancy gives of herself unselfishly through the time she spends with those who are experiencing the loss of a loved one. She is compassionate, sensitive and has that skill of knowing just when to add a touch of humor to her meeting. Hospice has a 'gift' in Nancy," stated one nominating fellow volunteer.

Cindy Gibbs was honored with the prestigious Hospice Hero/Heroine Award for 1994. This award is presented annually to an individual, group, club or service organization who exemplifies extraordinary concern, advocacy or leadership aimed at improving the quality of care given through the hospice organization. The honoree is neither a board member, employee or a volunteer.

Gibbs has given unselfishly of her time over the past five years in several areas of hospice support. She has provided vocal and musical interludes at the Annual Hospice Service of Remembrance for the past four years, along with community involvement of educating others about the hospice philosophy and mission.

Hard work pays off for 7th & 8th grade bands

The Grayling Middle School 7th and 8th grade bands brought home a II rating from State Festival on Saturday, May 6.

The 7th grade band received II ratings for their concert performance and a I rating for their sight reading performance, for an overall rating of II.

One judge wrote, "This group is very close to being outstanding. A very fine band, unfortunately there were too many little errors to achieve top rating."

Another wrote that all of the ingredients were there for an excellent performance, but the band needs to listen to their instructor.

"Make music, don't just play notes," the judge advised the 7th grade band.

The 7th grade was complimented on their stage deportment, appearance and instrumentation.

The 8th grade band wowed the sight reading judge with their I performance on the sight reading music.

"You do so many things well," wrote the judge, "it almost seems like you've rehearsed this before." The 8th grade received straight A's in every category for the sight reading performance.

For their concert performance, they received two II's and one I for an overall rating of II.

A judge commented that the band had a very ambitious program saying the band was really challenged.

"You show evidence of musical maturity," wrote a judge noting that maturity was due to a good instructor. "Keep listening to him always to achieve greater heights."

The 8th grade band was described by one judge as having many excellent players.

Grayling High School to host Senior Honors Night

Grayling High School will host its annual Seniors Honors Night on Thursday, May 18, at 7:30 p.m. in the Joseph Stripe Auditorium.

The program is being sponsored in the evening to give parents, relatives, friends and the community the opportunity to share in the honors being bestowed upon the senior graduates. It is felt that this is only fitting because they deserve much of the credit for the seniors' achievements.

The quality of family life, support and concern provided has contributed significantly towards the academic achievement and honors that these seniors will receive. A large portion of the 1995 graduating class will be recognized for their academic achievements through state and local college scholarships, citizenship awards and a number of other categories.

The High School administration and faculty cordially invite all parents, relatives, friends and the community to support the honored seniors and the educational system by sharing these special moments of honor.

GHS government club returns with awards

Youth in Government is a club at Grayling High School that involves working with political parties and taking a trip to Lansing in April.

Throughout the year the club sponsors a school dance to help defray the cost of the trip to the capitol. At this 4-day simulation, students pass or kill bills they write themselves in the House or Senate and advertise them by lobbying under the legislative branch.

Under the judicial branch, students act as trial lawyers in either trial or appeals divisions, trying a real case with an attorney posing as a judge.

There are mock trial competitions between schools, and the final round between the two top schools is held in the Michigan Supreme Court.

Last, the executive branch is "simulated" with elections for student governor, lieutenant governor (who can then go on to represent Michigan on a national level), speaker of the house, and chaplain.

The student governor can either pass or veto any bill passed through the legislature. Any bills that the student governor passes go on to the real House and Senate and finally to Governor Engler where they can decide if any of the bills can become an actual state law. Pictures on your driver's license came from a Youth in Government member.

Youth in Government is a very in-depth experience. Anyone who has an interest in political matters should get involved in this club. It's definitely an unforgettable learning experience. The 1995 Grayling High School members include: Brion Davis, Jamie Evans, Shane Hinkle, Andy Hunter, Chris Jones, Kevin Langseth, Greg Mesack, Pete Radzwin, Nathaniel Rosi, Jessica Roy, Steve Bugyi, Samara Sabin, Katie Smock, and Nick Stancil. Advisors were Howard and Valerie Lehti.

Receiving the best legislator award was senior Greg Mesack. Brion Davis and Andy Hunter were cited with outstanding committee work certificates. Chris Jones and Nick Stancil's bill made it through the legislative process and was signed by the governor. Only 10 percent of the bills accomplish that. This was the ninth year G.H.S. was involved in the Y.M.C.A. Youth in Government program.

GHS students vow action, not drugs, at S.T.A.N.D. induction

The second annual induction of Grayling High School "Students Taking Action Not Drugs" (S.T.A.N.D.), will be held at the Grayling Middle School Gymnasium on Wednesday, May 17, at 7 p.m.

More than 100 students in grades 8-12 will be pledging to remain drug free for one year.

The induction is being sponsored by the Grayling Middle School Student Council who gave $250 to make it a memorable event.

As part of the ceremony, the special guest band "ARC" will present a music, drama and media presentation designed to address substance abuse. Through the dramatic aspect of the 45-minute presentation, the audience will view everyday, real-to-life situations, both positive and negative choices regarding substance abuse.

The presentation is designed to provide motivational communication concerning drinking and drugs, from a peer group.

At the end of the presentation, one of the ARC band members will step forward to deliver a summary to the audience about what has just been portrayed through the music, drama, and media. A positive self-concept is stressed. Because of the high regard adolescents give to musicians, this magical moment produces more than just talk. Communication occurs as teens hear from a positive role-model who speaks about goals to which they can relate.

Following the induction and the ARC presentation, a reception will be held for the inductees and their parents. The public and all teens are invited to join in the celebration. The entire evening is free, but donations to the program will be accepted.

"I'm really excited about seeing this band," said S.T.A.N.D. coordinator, David Clyde Holzbauer. "They're top-notch performers, with an important message about life styles and choices for today's youth."

Holzbauer said he is currently working on a grant application to fund the S.T.A.N.D. program in the next school year. He said because of state and federal budget cuts, without the grant, S.T.A.N.D. may not be possible.

GHS student to travel to Holland

Holland is known for windmills and tulips. Grayling High School sophomore Heather Curtis will get to know the rest of Holland when she travels there for a year as an exchange student.

Curtis is the daughter of Dan and Cyndi Curtis of Grayling. She will be leaving August 1 to spend a year with a host family in Holland. Curtis is currently learning Dutch to help prepare her for her stay in Holland. Curtis is travelling to Holland as part of the Youth for Understanding program.

"This could help me decide what I want to do for a career," said Curtis. "I hope to travel to London or Paris."

In order to become a foreign exchange student, Curtis had to have at least a 3.0 GPA and go through an interview process. The next year will be challenging for her as Holland's school curriculum is strictly academic. Curtis said she can expect to spend an hour to an hour and a half on homework for each class everyday.

The cost of the program is $5,120 and covers her travel, medical, school and spending expenditures. Although the program is fully paid for, Curtis is gladly accepting donations for incidentals during her year-long stay.

Arthritis Update

Arthritis hurts children, too

If a child avoids using a particular limb, shows signs of stiffness or complains about aching joints, it may not be just growing pains -- it could be arthritis. According to the Arthritis Foundation, juvenile arthritis is a painful, sometimes debilitating condition that affects as many as 200,000 American children.

A child with arthritis might find climbing steps, throwing a ball, opening a door or even walking very difficult or even impossible. Along with the pain, arthritis brings fatigue. Some children may have difficulties at school or with the rigorous activities of a field trip. Arthritis can be worse on some days than on others, flaring up when least expected.

Parents, teachers and schoolmates also may have difficulty with the challenges faced by young people who have arthritis. People don't expect to see arthritis in young adults, much less in children. The problems children with arthritis experience are real and painful, even if no outward signs of the illness appear.

Although there is no cure yet for juvenile arthritis, the outlook is optimistic. With early diagnosis and proper support, children, their families and their teachers can learn to cope with juvenile arthritis and enjoy a full range of activities.

Contact the Arthritis Foundation for information about childhood arthritis and the American Juvenile Arthritis Organization. For general arthritis information and a free "Basic Facts" brochure, call the Arthritis Foundation Information Line, 1-800-283-7800.

The Arthritis Foundation supports research to find ways to cure and prevent arthritis and seeks to improve the quality of life for those affected by arthritis.

Secretary of State announces changes for handicapper parking permits

Secretary of State Candice S. Miller announced recently that new changes in the state's handicapper parking permit program went into effect on Monday, May 1.

Designed to curb abuse of the handicapper parking program, the new law toughens standards for issuing handicapper parking permits and creates a new certification process for obtaining free parking privileges.

"These permits were never designed to offer an easy way for non-deserving individuals to obtain free parking privileges," Miller said. "Rather, they are designed to ease access for people who have legitimate needs based on their physical limitations. Our office is pleased to put into place changes that will ultimately make a difference in this program."

The changes affect all new permits issued after May 1.

The criteria that qualify applicants for a handicapper parking permit have not changed. What has changed is that now only a physician may certify eligibility, new standards to qualify for free parking have been added, the length of time a temporary handicapper permit is valid has been shortened, and the Secretary of State will now show the holder's driver license or ID card number on the permit. Under the new law:

•Only a Michigan physician may certify whether an individual qualifies for a handicapper parking permit. In the past, Department of State branch office staff were allowed to determine eligibility in the most obvious of instances.

•Only individuals with very specific handicaps, such as an inability to insert coins in parking meters, will qualify for free parking. Physicians will find a second certification for free parking directly below the initial certification on the application.

Applicants who qualify for free parking will have a yellow "free parking" sticker attached to their handicapper parking permit.

Handicapper license plates issued or renewed after May 1, no longer grant free parking privileges. To park free at meters, individuals with handicapper license plates must also use a hanging permit with the free parking sticker.

•Temporary handicapper parking permits will now be issued for a maximum of six months. Permit holders whose condition has not improved during that time must submit a new application certified by their physician.

•All handicapper permits now include the holder's driver license or ID card number, making it easier for law enforcement officers to identify the permit user.

Individuals convicted of making a fraudulent application or misusing permits are subject to fines up to $500 or imprisonment up to 30 days, or both.

Handicapper parking permit applications are available at all 181 Secretary of State branch offices.

National Guard surveys historical sites on base

This week, May 14-20, is National Historic Preservation Week, sponsored by the National Trust for Historic Preservation, to promote an appreciation of our nation's historical resources. This year's theme — "Real People, Real Places, Real History!" — calls on everyone to recognize the historic resources and the important role they play in shaping communities. With that in mind, the Michigan National Guard has recently completed a survey of archaeological resources on over 6,000 acres at Camp Grayling. The survey, conducted by Commonwealth Cultural Resources Group, Inc., of Jackson, located two prehistoric Native American sites and 31 early settlement sites.

The early Native American findings consisted of prehistoric stone tools and one arrowhead. These finds were isolated, which led the archaeologists to theorize that these were sites of very short-term occupation and not permanent encampments. Indeed, early history of northern Michigan indicated that the interior of the state was largely uninhabited by early Native Americans, due to the cold climate and relatively scarce wildlife living in the pine forests.

Much more abundant were finds from the early historic period in Crawford County, circa 1880 to 1930. The 31 sites included logging camps, farmsteads, homes, small settlements and scatterings of various artifacts.

The archaeologists used a variety of methods to help identify the sites. Early land records, state archives and university libraries were consulted for maps depicting logging camps, abandoned railroad grades, houses and farmsteads, trails, and clearings in the forest. About 55 sites were actually identified on early documents. Of these, only 31 had any remains from earlier occupation.

"What we see is not the structure anymore, but parts of foundations and excavations where homes, sheds and other outbuildings probably stood," said Carla Elenz, cultural resource manager at Camp Grayling.

Archaeologists are able to date each site fairly accurately by using artifacts found at the site. "A broken piece of glass with part of a word can be traced to the manufacturer who was in business during a certain time frame," said Elenz. Other artifacts found included tobacco tins, barrel hoops, ceramics, and stove parts.

In some cases, early land ownership records are available which might tell

GHS Viking Band's outstanding performances continue to astonish

PERFECT SCORING ONCE AGAIN -- The Grayling High School Band was feeling the pressure of their first place win at Disney World as they headed to state band festival on Saturday, April 29. There was no need to worry though, as the band brought home a perfect, straight I rating from Gaylord. Seventeen schools, ranging from class D to AA, competed. Seven of those schools were class C, including Grayling. Of the seven schools, Grayling and Manistee High School Symphonic Band were the only ones to receive a straight I rating. "It's been a really great year," said Dennis Ormsbee, director. "We have some really fine players in the group and they work well as a team." A judge wrote on the adjudicator's form, "A most enjoyable presentation! Your playing really generates excitement and you play with refinement — a great combination. Band seems to enjoy playing — I know I enjoyed listening!" A second judge wrote that he was quite impressed. "The band is excellent and shows fine teaching and very able conducting. You have a very nice blend and a romantic sound with a very fine use of dynamics." The judges opinions were unanimous with the third and fourth judges commenting on how pleasant it was to hear the band. This is a great way to end the year for the band and the 10 graduating seniors.

Viking boys' winning streak continues

By Nick Stancil
Staff Writer

The Grayling Viking varsity baseball team continued to roll winning 11 of their last 12 games. The Vikings defeated the Roscommon Bucks 10-3 at home on Monday, May 1.

"We are staying focused and that's helping us win," said Head Coach Fred Wolcott.

Senior Scott Longendyke pitched the first inning but was relieved by Senior Chip Waite who pitched for the remainder of the game.

The leading hitters for the Vikings were Senior Chris Jones with one, Junior Andy Perrin with one, Senior Shane Hinkle with two, Waite had two including a homerun, Junior Jason Hatfield had one hit, Junior Travis Weaver had one, Junior Justin Eddy had one and Junior Scott Hartman had one hit.

"We are getting excellent pitching all the way around and some timely hits," said Wolcott.

Grayling also defeated Roscommon in the second game 11-2.

Waite pitched the first four innings and was relieved by Longendyke who had the save.

Leading hitters were Jones with two, Junior Jason Thompson with two, Waite with one, Hatfield with one, Longendyke with one, Perrin had one and Hartman had one hit.

"I think that we are playing really good ball and we should have some momentum moving into our conference games," said Thompson. "We have the deepest batting order of anyone that we've played. Everyone in our lineup can hit."

The Vikings also defeated Charlevoix 7-1 on Tuesday, May 2.

Thompson pitched for the entire game and came away with the victory.

Leading hitters for the Vikings were Jones with one, Thompson with two, Hatfield with two and Longendyke with one.

The Vikings swept the doubleheader defeating Charlevoix in the second game 5-3.

Perrin took the win pitching the entire game.

Leading hitters were Jones with one, Hinkle with two, Thompson with one, Longendyke with two and Bugyi with one.

"Our team is improving in every game," said Perrin. "We need to stay focused and reduce errors. If we do this, our season will be successful."

"Our kids are playing good ball," said Wolcott. "If we keep it up going into this week's league games then we'll look pretty good. We have to keep it up."

The Vikings continued their winning streak defeating the Kalkaska Blue Blazers 14-3 on Friday, May 5.

Waite pitched for the entire game keeping his season ERA at 1.61.

The leading batters for Grayling were Jones, who had three hits including a grand slam homerun, Hinkle had two hits, Waite had one, Bugyi had one, Longendyke had one, Perrin had three and Hartman had two.

The Vikings' winning streak was stopped at nine games when Kalkaska defeated Grayling 11-5 in the second game.

Longendyke took the loss as pitcher throwing for five innings until Perrin relieved him.

According to Wolcott the fifth inning cost the Vikings their winning streak.

He's out

WAITING AT THIRD -- Shane Hinkle, a senior Viking, is ready at third. The Vikings defeated Roscommon, Charlevoix and Kalkaska last week.

The Vikings were leading in the top of the fifth with two outs, said Wolcott.

"We should have had the inning put away," said Wolcott, "but we had too many errors. It was only one bad inning in ten games."

The Vikings were led at the plate by Bugyi, who had two hits including one homerun, Perrin, who had one hit, and Senior Tony Dobry, who had one hit.

The Vikings traveled to Gaylord to face a tough Blue Devil team on Tuesday, May 9.

JV boys follow varsity's lead

By Nick Stancil
Staff Writer

The junior varsity baseball team travelled to Roscommon on Monday, May 1 and defeated the Bucks 6-1.

The Vikings played a good defensive game and made no errors.

Due to very aggressive base running in the fifth inning, the Vikings scored four runs to secure the victory.

Sophomore Aaron Perrin took the win by striking out eight and giving up only two walks.

Leading hitters for the Vikings were Sophomore Ben Haskel with three hits, Sophomore Eddy Baynham with two hits, Sophomore Brad Larm with two hits, Sophomore Tim Anderson with one, Sophomore Josh Schoen with one and Perrin with one.

In game two of the doubleheader, Grayling lost to Roscommon 5-2.

"We didn't hit like we normally do," said Coach Bill Klinger. "We committed three errors that led to three runs for Roscommon."

The Vikings hitting came from Larm and Perrin who each had one hit.

The Vikings hosted and were defeated by Kalkaska 12-10 on Friday, May 5.

"We fell behind 4-0 and then took the lead 8-7 but we just couldn't keep it," said Klinger. "The players never gave up and we kept battling back but we just ran out of innings."

Leading hitters were Larm and Haskel each with two hits, Perrin with one hit and sophomores Isaac Tobin and Mike Knight each with one hit.

In game two, Baynham pitched Grayling to a 6-5 victory.

Viking highlights of the game were good plays at shortstop by freshman Mike Harland, excellent pitching by Baynham, and a homerun by Haskel that gave Grayling a 2-1 lead.

The aggressive base running of Sophomore Josh Nethers also led the Vikings to victory.

Nethers walked in the last inning and then stole second base. He moved third on a bunt and scored the winning run on a wild pitch.

"We are playing good baseball and we need to work on making the routine plays," said Klinger. "Our players are still learning the game and are picking up on the little things that make them successful."

Viking girls earn first win of season

By Nick Stancil
Staff Writer

The Grayling Varsity softball team earned its first victory of the season defeating the Roscommon Bucks on Monday, May 1.

With the score tied in the top of the last inning, Junior Brooke Blaauw came into the game as a relief pitcher. With the bases loaded and one out, Blaauw retired the next two batters avoiding disaster.

In the bottom half of the inning, Senior Carol Lanczy doubled home Senior Trish Straw who scored the winning run.

The victory was a very exciting game for both teams and was a crowd pleaser for the spectators in the stands.

The top hitters in the first Roscommon game were Blaauw, Lanczy, and Junior Jennifer Richardson.

The Vikings' defense was led by the fielding of Straw, Senior Samara Sabin, and Sophomore Jessica St. Germain.

In the second game against the Bucks the Vikings were narrowly defeated 3-2.

"This was a quick game that was well played and was very entertaining," said Coach Gerry St. Germain.

The leading hitters in the second game were Blaauw, Lanczy, and St. Germain. Outstanding defensive plays were also made by Blaauw, Lanczy, and Richardson.

The Vikings traveled to Charlevoix on Tuesday, May 2 to challenge a fine Red Raider team. The Vikings were defeated in both games.

In the first game, Charlevoix had excellent pitching and capitalized on all of the opportunities the Vikings gave them.

"Our players fought back," said St. Germain, "but it was too little too late."

Sabin, St. Germain and Sophomore Arica Burkett led the Vikings batting attack against the Red Raiders while Blaauw, Straw, and senior Nicole Parker led the team defensively.

In the second game, Blaauw pitched a one hitter through the first four innings with the help of strong Viking fielding. Blaauw pitched well only to lose it 2-1 in the bottom of the last inning on an unearned run.

"I was extremely proud of our kids," said St. Germain. "They battled on every pitch and play. We played great defense and took a very good team right to the wire."

In the second Charlevoix game the top Viking batters were St. Germain and Junior Alicia Holly. Outstanding defensive plays were made by St. Germain, Blaauw, Parker, and Straw.

Behind the strong pitching of Holly, the Vikings defeated the Kalkaska Blue Blazers 9-2 on Friday, May 5.

"The kids were aggressive at the plate and played good defense," said St. Germain.

The top hitters against Kalkaska were Holly, Straw, and Junior Stacie Mead. Lanczy, Mead, and St. Germain made the best defensive plays.

The Vikings dropped game two of the double header because of a few costly mental and physical errors.

"We lost our focus and Kalkaska jumped on our mistakes," said St. Germain.

Burkett, Holly, and Sabin led the team in batting while Straw, Parker, and Wallace contributed defensively.

KCC offers medical transcription program

The health care industry is expanding in our area. To meet the growing market for skilled health care workers, Kirtland Community College has recently introduced two new secretarial programs directly related to the medical community.

Medical transcription is a program that will provide students with the training necessary to transcribe physician's dictated reports for medical records. These records are used by medical offices, hospitals, agencies and other medical related businesses. A general office skills background will be provided as well as intensive training in transcribing actual medical dictation.

A medical assistant program will train students in both administrative and clinical duties. Emphasis is placed on required office skills such as receptionist duties, medical office procedures, insurance billing, transcription of medical dictation and secretarial duties. In addition, the student will receive clinical training to prepare them to assist with patients by taking vital signs, assisting with examinations, performing venipuncture and lab tests, administering medications, operating test equipment, and sterilizing instruments.

Both programs are 67 credit hours and lead to an associate in applied science degree.

According to Sharon Blasch, Kirtland's Medical Secretarial instructor, "These two programs will provide employers with trained office support staff and assistants, for which there is a great demand. This is a field where job opportunities will continue to increase in our northern Michigan area."

If you need further information regarding these two programs, contact Blasch at Kirtland at (517) 275-5121, extension 345, or Kirtland's admissions office.

Hunting & Fishing Weekly Update

THE WEATHER IS FINALLY MODERATING SOME--This will help to improve the fishing we hope. The sunny days have brought on the fly hatches on all the rivers. The water is low and clear. The trout fishing will be very good for the next six weeks or so.

The sun will also bring the bluegills up in the shallows. You should get some action on a spider and a fly rod, or try wax worms on an ice lure and a small bobber. This past week brought some good crappie fishing on Houghton Lake. Some of the fishermen caught some rather large ones, also some good bluegills.

Make a hole-in-one and win a 1995 Buick Century

Once again golfers can get more than just personal satisfaction and bragging rights when they accomplish a hole-in-one, they can win a 1995 Buick Century or a number of other great prizes too.

The 2nd Annual "Moonlight on the Links" Golf Outing will be Saturday, May 20 at the Grayling Country Club. The outing is a fundraiser for the AuSable River International Canoe Marathon. Last year the golf outing raised $2,100 for the race.

There is a $35 per person entry fee, which includes night golf equipment, food and non-alcoholic beverages and four person scrambles. A full team is required with a completed entry form. Entry forms are available at local merchants and the Grayling Country Club. Entry is limited to the first 36 teams.

Teams should check in at 6 p.m. with the shotgun-start first round starting at 7 p.m. The shotgun-start second round will begin at 9 p.m.

The first lucky golfer to get a hole-in-one on hole number three, which is 203 yards, will receive a 1995 Buick Century valued at $21,000 courtesy of Scheer Motors, Inc. A hole-in-one on hole number seven, which is 129 yards, will win a fabulous 4-day/3-night Hilton Golf Resorts vacation for two. Get the elusive hole-in-one on hole number 11, which is 92 yards and you'll be swinging a new set of Maxfli 'VHL' irons. A hole-in-one on hole number 17, which is 165 yards and you can take a trip for two anywhere in the continental USA.

The 2nd Annual "Moonlight on the Links" Golf Outing is sponsored by Scheer Motors, Inc. Carts are available to rent, on the first round only, on a first come, first serve basis. For more information, interested golfers can call 348-4425 or 348-2258.

Local softball team wins Trout Festival tourney

Northwoods Land Company sponsored a local softball team that participated in the annual Trout Festival held recently in Kalkaska. The tournament featured 16 teams from around northern Michigan, and in posting a 6-win, 1-loss record, Northwoods came away with the championship trophy. Enroute to the trophy, Northwoods beat teams from Boyne City, Levering, Traverse City and a local team from Kalkaska, whom they had to beat twice after this team had put them into the loser's bracket.

Leading Northwoods in hitting were locals Darrell Metzger, Mike Staley, John Cottenham and Dave Burr. Fine defensive play from John Jurkovich, Corey Derenzy, Joel Mack and Steve Petersen also helped the winning team.

In winning the tournament, the players all received T-shirts. Northwoods Land Company will be participating in other tournaments throughout the summer.

The Bible Speaks

From the Calvary Baptist Church

U.N. Control

Our State Representative Allen Lowe, has informed us of a United Nations treaty which will "strip parental rights." We quote his legislative report of April 3, 1995:

"On February 16, 1995, Madeline K. Albright, the U.S. Ambassador to the U.N., signed the U.N. Charter on the Rights of the Child. The treaty will proceed to the U.S. Senate Foreign Relations Committee for a hearing."

"The following is a very small sample of what is contained in this treaty:

Article 12 & 13: Guarantees children freedom to all types of expression.

Article 14: Gives children the 'freedom of thought, conscience and religion.' This provision would prohibit parents from raising their children according to their religious beliefs.

Article 15: Grants children the 'freedom of association and peaceful assembly.' Parents could not limit with whom their children associate.

Article 37: Provides states with the power to take children from parents who do not provide for the liberty of their children as described in the treaty. It also provides children with authority to sue their parents for violating their 'rights.'"

This U.N. treaty undermines the divine authority of the 5th commandment which is repeated eight times in Holy Scriptures. "Honor thy father and thy mother, that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee." (Exodus 20:12)

While many leaders in Michigan government are fighting to restore parental rights to local families, some national and international leaders are brazenly planning to take away more parental rights. We should pray that the Senate will overwhelmingly oppose such a treaty.

Much of the goal for this global government was publicly printed in 1973 in the Humanist Manifesto II. This evil was first clearly prophesied nearly 2,000 years ago in the Holy Scriptures. Much of this information has been publicly repeated in detail over many years in this column. Skeptics need to be enlightened. All of us have observed the chaos of undisciplined children running their parents and the home. Imagine this on a community, national and global scale enforced by international law and U.N. troops.

We are being herded into a global economy and will eventually be controlled morally by a 1-world religion, and physically by a 1-world government. A spiritual revival in America can slow things down and spare a generation or so of our families from severe persecution. See you in church?

Church Directory

In the first years, you were life itself. Warmth, sustenance, and the softness of loving arms were only a heartbeat away.

As we became young children, you were perfection personified... the queen of our world. A kiss erased the pain of a skinned knee or hurt feelings. Shelter was your arms.

During the teen years, your queenly crown tilted precariously. You became our "critic." "Your room is a pigsty!" "That phone must be glued to your ear!" What's happened to Mom?

However, college gave us a new perspective as you again became our rescuer. Goodies and loving letters (with enclosed check) proved your crown was on straight. Thank goodness!

Finally, we launched lives of our own. You became our confidant and advisor as we began jobs and raised families. Again we were babes in a new world, and you were there.

Mom, life has come full circle. You played many roles with little rehearsal, but you were always right on cue. Today, you take center stage. Congratulations... and Happy Mother's Day!

'Sullivan Scramble' set for June 12

In the summer of 1985, John Sullivan was a 17-year-old student and athlete with a promising future. But while playing in a golf tournament in East Lansing, for Michigan's top prep golfers, he was struck by a bolt of lightning. His brain and body were so traumatized that he couldn't move or speak, and for nearly eight years he was almost totally paralyzed. It is only recently that he has begun to regain some movement. For example, it took years of continually icing and vibrating the muscles in John's legs before he could finally straighten them out and even think about standing.

"John's resiliency is remarkable, considering all that he's been through," said his father, Dick Sullivan. "For him to still be happy most of the time and have the sense of humor that he has, amazes me."

Experts have told his parents that John can continue to recover much of his previous mobility with continued therapy. But progress is slow, and they threw away the clocks and calendars a long time ago.

"There are certain windows of opportunity that open up for him. Our challenge is that when he's ready to take the next step, we have to be ready with the resources or help that he needs," said Dick Sullivan.

Over the past year, intensive physical therapy helped retrain his muscles enough for John to operate a computer with his foot. He has been steadily improving in his ability to do simple programs on the computer, such as matching pictures to words.

"A year ago, he could make 14 to 20 responses on the computer over a 20-minute period," said Dick. "Today, he can make over 75 responses in less than 10 minutes."

Now John's ready to advance to a computer program that may make it possible for him to finally break his long years of silence and "speak." The speech computer device, which the elder Sullivan expects to have up and running within a few months, will enable John to pick out words and form them into sentences on the computer screen.

If the program works as expected, John will be able to express himself in words for the first time in 10 years. Since his accident, John has had to rely solely on eye blinks, shaking his head, facial expressions and body language to communicate with his family and friends. Although he can usually get his meaning across quite well using those methods, being able to use language again will undoubtedly bring his recovery to an entirely new level.

The rigorous physical and massage therapy John undergoes five days a week is paying off in other areas as well. His muscles are much more relaxed, so his body is not as rigid as it was in the years immediately following his accident.

"His arms can lay down at his sides now, he can sit up straight instead of always slumping over, he can turn his head, and he can move himself around some, so he's no longer trapped in a fixed position," said Jane Gemmell, a certified massage therapist (CMT) who has been working with John for the past two years.

Although he's been confined to a wheelchair or bed since the accident, John is also beginning to work on standing up. He can stand with a walker for up to 20 minutes, and just recently he stood for over three minutes without any support at all.

That may not sound like much to people who don't know John, but his family and friends see each new accomplishment as a major victory. They've seen firsthand just how far John has come.

John, who is now 27, still requires around-the-clock care and extensive therapy. He lives at the Sullivan farm in Marlette, where his rehabilitation is supervised by medical professionals and his family.

Since his tragic accident, support from his community and people all across the state has been overwhelming. Every year, golfers turn out for the Sullivan Scramble Golf Benefit to raise money to help pay for John's costly medical expenses.

The Seventh Annual Sullivan Scramble will be held on Monday, June 12, at Swan Valley Golf Club in Saginaw, (course donated by Leonard LeFevre). Tee times begin at 10 a.m.

According to this year's golf director, Tom Kochendorfer, there is a fantastic day of golf planned, plus lots of prizes and surprises. In addition to the golf outing and dinner, the Sullivan Scramble will include hole-in-one contests sponsored by Martin Chevrolet, Eagle-Jeep-Geo, and Opperman Travel, a silent auction featuring unique sports-related items, plenty of stay/play packages, golf paraphernalia, and more. Each golfer will receive a golf towel with a Sullivan Scramble logo. This year's grand door prize will be a trip for two to Toronto, compliments of Morley Travel.

The voice of the Pistons, George Blaha, and Saginaw's WNEM-TV5 Sports Director, Art Neil, will return again this year to serve as honorary chairmen of the event.

Entry fees for this event are $60 per player or $25 for dinner only. Make checks payable to the Sullivan Trust, or mail check and names of players to Sullivan Golf Scramble, P.O. Box 14455, Saginaw, MI 48601. For more information on entering this event, call 517-781-1223.

If you are interested in golfing in this year's Sullivan Scramble, or if you would like to volunteer to help with one of the many activities for the event, call (517) 799-1447. If you are not interested in playing golf, but would like to make a donation, make your check out to the Sullivan Trust and mail to 3030 Sullivan Road, Marlette, MI 48453.

'Old Timer' returns to Grayling

On Thursday, May 11, residents near Camp Grayling's Air Gunnery Range may notice larger aircraft than they usually see. Air Force B52s will deliver practice (non-exploding) ordnance at the range, located at the Otsego/Crawford County line.

Two airplanes will be used, each making five passes over the target area, between noon and 2 p.m. They will approach on a north-to-south line, maintaining altitudes above 3,000 feet, to minimize the noise effect on local residents.

This training for aircrews is designed to maintain crew proficiency in the event these skills are needed for combat.

Anyone interested in viewing the exercise may come to the Range Tower. If weather conditions do not meet minimum standards, however, the event will be cancelled. For further information, call the tower at (517)
939-8880.

National Guard locates historical sites

who lived there in the early parts of the century. "For example, one homesite sits on a parcel of land owned by Marius Hanson in 1927. We are wondering now if this was a relative of lumber baron Rasmus Hanson, who donated the original land for Camp Grayling to the Michigan National Guard," speculates Elenz.

This initial survey was aimed at merely locating prehistoric and historic sites. Staff at Camp Grayling hope to be able to conduct further investigations on several sites that appear to be intact, and which the archaeologists indicated might yield information significant in terms of local and regional history.

All sites have been catalogued by the Historic Preservation Officer of the State Bureau of History. Since these sites are located on land owned by the State of Michigan, all artifacts are the property of the state, and locations are confidential. However,
Camp Grayling has plans in the future for a historical display highlighting some of these finds.
